The Crime of the Century

Sherlock

(Presented by xxxxx)

Many thanks to Dr. Watson for his patience recollecting the event

Sept 12, 2013
London in the 1900’s

• Some background information
Main Result

- The Butler did it!
- He had an accomplice
Outline

• The scene
• The characters
• The motives
• The reconstruction
• The clue
• The arrest
• Conclusion
Outline

- The scene
- The characters
- The motives
- The reconstruction
- The clue
- The arrest
- Conclusion
The Scene

Start with as many slides as you need for describing the first section.
Outline

- The scene
- The characters
- The motives
- The reconstruction
- The clue
- The arrest
- Conclusion
Outline

• The scene

• The characters
  • The Butler
  • The Maid
  • The dog

• The motives

• The reconstruction
continue...

- Progress through the material.
- Put information easy to understand first
- Slowly move on to more sophisticated information.
- It’s ok to lose all but a few people at the very end.
Results

- The Butler did it. But he was not alone
- The accomplice was the Maid
- The arm was a butcher knife
- They wanted to steal the gold cross
Conclusion

• The Butler and the Maid did it. For love. They used a butcher knife
• They were caught
• Crime does not pay
• New investigative tools created to solve the murder